

GLOBAL INNOVATION

October 2008

HIV/AIDS - following the research dollars: Citation analysis of HIV/AIDS-related papers

INFORMATION PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Analyzing research performance at Rockefeller University: Tracking research output to pinpoint emerging trends and determine future directions.

New bibliographic software by Dr Eugene Garfield: Helping researchers, librarians, and administrators analyze and visualize bibliographies.

Citation mapping: The one picture that says it all.

One sign-on delivers access to three powerful resources: You can now access ISI Web of Knowledge, ResearcherID and EndNote Web with the same email address and password.

Database content issues: Dr. Peter Jacso toured six Asian cities lecturing on calculating publishing performance measures of researchers and journals.

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

Managing external patent agencies: Nokia's Director of IPR takes a closer look.

The Taiwan model for patenting nanotechnology: Taiwan is looking to nanotechnology to make it more globally competitive.

Building your skills for leveraging patent information: The AurekaKNOW 'how to' series helps enhance your business skills.

Strategic insight into company and technology landscapes: Access a WebEx presentation on how to use Thomson Data Analyzer to deliver this insight.

Thomson Innovation named 2008 R&D 100 Award winner: Recognition of "an important new product that leapfrogs current technology".

Access the world's largest in-house inventory of electronic file histories: thomsonfilehistories.com gives immediate access to over 200,000 electronic file histories.

PHARMACEUTICAL KNOWLEDGE

Ten ways to influence the market: Strategies to realize the greatest possible return on your investment.

The role of Biomarkers in the changing face of healthcare: Research organizations face a number of hurdles in realizing the potential of biomarkers.

Exploring the 2008 pharmaceutical pipeline: Pharma Matters reports use market intelligence and competitive analysis to explore the current pharmaceutical pipeline.

SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH

China's science surge rolls on: China has dramatically increased its output of scientific papers, while also seeing the citation impact of

NO TIME TO BROWSE?

Download a PDF of all October's articles

TOP LINKS FROM THE LAST ISSUE

Made in China: a glimpse into the future of patent information

Using bibliometrics: A guide to evaluating research performance with citation data

H-index: The hottest topic in information science today

Something really new: a practical, implementable approach to innovation

CUSTOMIZE YOUR NEWSLETTER

You can choose to receive insight on any or all of the following topics:

- Global innovation
- Information professional development
- Intellectual property
- Pharmaceutical knowledge
- Scientific research

Register and make your content selection

those papers steadily rise.

Have your say in the new Citation Impact Center blog: New discussion capability gives you the opportunity to express views about issues that impact your daily work.

Increase the visibility and impact of your research: Link to your ResearcherID profile and publication list from a variety of online environments, and visually explore your collaboration and citation networks.

SC1008001